MEMBERS NOT ALUMNI OF THE COLLEGE

The list is arranged according to the year of election to membership. George Edmond Pierce, President of the College, and Professors Barrows, Day, Nooney, Seymour and St. John constituted the original committee of organization to which the charter was granted. All were members of the Yale Chapter, the Alpha of Connecticut. Professors Bartlett and Long, whose names come next in order, also assisted in the organization of the chapter. It will be seen that the members mentioned in the list were for the most part elected in the early years of the chapter's history. In the records the term "honorary member" is not applied to them, except to a small number of those last elected. They frequently held office, and a few of them who were connected with the college in positions lower than that of professor,† were expected to perform all the duties of regular members. Most of them were already members of other Alphas at the time of their election. Owing to defects in the records, the list is probably not quite complete, nor can the full names be learned in all cases.

CHARTER, CONSTITUTION, AND LAWS

—OF THE—

ALPHA OF OHIO CHAPTER

PHI BETA KAPPA

CHARTER

The Phi Beta Kappa Fraternity was founded at William and Mary College on December 5th, 1776. Since that time eighty-five chapters have been established in other colleges.* In each state the first chapter to be established is called the Alpha chapter of that state, the second the Beta, the third the Gamma, etc., according to the order of their formation. The chapter of Western Reserve College, now Adelbert College of Western Reserve University, was thus the seventh Alpha organized after the formation of the parent chapter. Its organization was authorized by the following charter, granted in 1847 by the Alpha of Connecticut:

"Whereas the society of  $\Phi$  B K by selecting the best and most promising scholars of good moral character in the principal colleges, and uniting them in one great fraternity of scientific and literary men, has been found not only profitable to the members of said society, but also conducive to the advancement of sound learning in our country; and whereas the President and Professors of the Western Reserve College at Hudson, in the state of Ohio, being desirous to secure to that college the great advantage of this institution, did, on the second day of December, 1841, prefer a petition to the Alpha of Connecticut, that a branch of this society might be established in the said Western Reserve College, and thereupon the Alpha of Connecticut instituted careful inquiry into the character and prospects of that college, and after mature deliberation did, at their general meeting, on the 18th day of August, 1842, assent to the above mentioned request, provided the approbation and consent of the other Alphas should first be obtained; and whereas the Alpha of Connecticut on learning that such consent and approbation had been obtained from each and all the other Alphas, did, at their general meeting on the day before the Commencement at Yale College, A. D., 1847, invest us the undersigned with authority to give and convey to the said petitioners, being members of this Alpha, the requisite power and authority to create and organize a distinct branch of the  $\Phi$  B K in said Western Reserve College, under the name and title of the Alpha of Ohio.

Now therefore, know all men by these presents, that our trusty and beloved brothers George E. Pierce S. T. D., President of the Western Reserve College, and his associates, Professors in the said college, Elijah P. Barrows, A. M., Henry N. Day, A. M., Samuel St. John, A. M., Nathan P. Seymour, A. M., and James Nooney, A. M., or the major part of them, have and possess full power to create and organize a branch of the society of  $\Phi$  B K in the Western Reserve College at Hudson, in the State of Ohio, which branch of said society shall be known by the name and style of the Alpha of Ohio, and shall possess and enjoy the power, privileges and prerogatives of a sister Alpha of the  $\Phi$  B K, provided that it be founded upon and faithfully adhere to, the great and fundamental principles of said society.

And that the said Alpha of Ohio may be the more effectually guarded against any and every departure from the fundamental principles of the  $\Phi$  B K society, the following brief statement of those principles is here subjoined:

I. No undergraduate shall be admitted into the society until they shall have attained the rank of Junior Sophisters, and so long as they remain undergraduates no more than one-third† part of any college class, and only those the most distinguished for genius, character and good scholarship, shall be admitted into the society.

† See Laws, Arts. 9 and 14, pp. 30, 31.

II. All elections of new members shall be by scrutiny of silent ballots and that a single negative vote, if not withdrawn, shall prevent election.

III. The members of each and all branches of the society constitute one literary fraternity, and all are pledged to treat each other with kindness and courtesy and to be faithful to the interests of the society.

IV. The branch of the society first established in any state is to be called the Alpha of that state, and it has power, with the consent of the other Alphas, to establish other branches of the society within the bounds of said state, to be called the Beta, Gamma, Delta, etc., of the same state.<sup>4</sup>

V. Each branch of the society is to have the same devices on its medal,<sup>3</sup> the same badge of membership, the same tokens of recognition,<sup>2</sup> etc.

VI. Each branch of the society, while bound by these principles, has full power to frame its own constitution and by-laws for the regulation of its meetings, its exercises, its forms of election and initiation, its choice of officers, its financial concerns and all its internal affairs, according to its own pleasure.

In the name and by the authority of the Connecticut Alpha of the  $\Phi$  B K, we hereunto affix our names, at New Haven, this nineteenth day of October, Anno Domini one thousand eight hundred and forty-seven.

JAMES MURDOCK,
DENNISON OLMSTED,
THOMAS A. THACHER.

The above diploma is in strict accordance with the votes passed by the Connecticut Alpha of the Phi Beta Kappa Society.

Attest:

EDWARD STRONG, Cor. Secretary."

The acceptance of the charter is recorded in the following extract from the chapter records:

"Western Reserve College, Hudson, Ohio.

October 28th, 1847.

The above named (see charter) commissioners, viz., Elijah P. Barrows, Jr., Henry N. Day, Samuel St. John, Nathan P. Seymour and James Nooney, having been convened for the purpose of organizing a branch of the  $\Phi$  B K society in connection with this institution, Prof. Barrows was appointed Chairman and Prof. Day Secretary. On motion it was voted unanimously that the charter above recorded be accepted and that we hereby organize ourselves into its provisions into a branch of the  $\Phi$  B K Society under the distinctive name of the Alpha of Ohio. Voted that Profs. Long and Bartlett, being members of the Alpha of New Hampshire, be invited to unite with us in the further organization of this Alpha. Messrs. St. John, Day, and Long were appointed a committee to prepare a constitution and a code of laws for the government of the Alpha. Adjourned to meet at 4 o'clock tomorrow afternoon.

ELIJAH P. BARROWS, Chairman.

HENRY N. DAY, Secretary."

MEMORANDA

1. Phi Beta Kappa is named after the initial letters of its Greek motto, Φιλοσοφία Βίου Κυβερνήτης, "Philosophy (or the love of knowledge) the Guide of Life."

2. The fraternity was first organized as a secret body, but during the anti-Masonic agitation of the last century secrecy and secret symbols were abandoned. It was the first "Greek Letter Fraternity" and its early history shows that it played an important role in the social, as well as the intellectual, life of its members.

3. The badge of the fraternity is a rectangular medal adapted by the addition of a stem to the purpose of a watch key. It bears on one side the letters  $\Phi$  B K and a hand pointing from the lower right hand corner to a group of stars in the upper left-hand corner. In the original medal of the parent chapter, the Alpha of Virginia, at William and Mary College, these stars numbered three. During the early period of the society's history the addition of a new chapter seems to have added a new star; the earliest keys at Bowdoin have five stars; Bowdoin was the sixth chapter organized, but the parent chapter had disbanded in 1781. The older keys of the Western Reserve Chapter, the Alpha of Ohio, show seven stars; for while the Alpha of Ohio was the tenth chapter organized, it was the seventh Alpha. In 1897 this chapter adopted the following resolution: "That the number of stars on the key, the badge of the society, be seven for this chapter, to express the fact that this Alpha is the seventh in order of establishment, counting from the parent society." The original significance of the stars has become a matter of dispute and uncertainty. The United Chapters have officially declared three stars to be the standard in this regard.

On the opposite side of the key appear the letters S. P. Careful examination of the records of the parent chapter, supported by tradition, point toward the probability that these letters are abbreviations of the Latin "Societas Philosophiae."

4. By virtue of the authority delegated to it in its charter, the chapter established a Beta at Kenyon in 1858 and a Gamma at Marietta in 1860. In 1883 the fraternity was reorganized and a closer association of existing chapters was formed, called the United Chapters of Phi Beta Kappa, which is governed by a National Council of delegates from the chapters and by a Senate of twenty members chosen by the Council. A meeting of the Council is held every three years, the last one having taken place in 1916. Power to grant new charters is now vested in the Council, which has established in Ohio chapters at the University of Cincinnati, Ohio State University, Oberlin College, Ohio Wesleyan University, Denison University, and at Miami. The Alpha of Ohio became a member of the United Chapters in 1894. The United Chapters publish a quarterly journal, the "Phi Beta Kappa Key," which is devoted to a study of the history and policies of the fraternity, as well as to the reporting of its current activities.

5. Phi Beta Kappa since 1875 has been open to women as well as to men. In co-educational institutions men and women students are eligible on the same basis of scholarship; a number of the leading colleges exclusively for women have chapters; and in several cases (e. g., Columbia and Western Reserve) where a university has an academic undergraduate college for women as well as one for men, a separate section has been created for the woman's college. The Alpha, during the brief period of co-education that followed the removal of Western Reserve College from Hudson to Cleveland, elected a number of women to membership. The account of the founding, organization and present activities of the College for Women Section of the Alpha of Ohio will be found on pp. 42-45.

6. For some time the annual meeting of the chapter has been held on the afternoon of Commencement day and has been the only meeting of the year.

7. Election of all officers, and elections and initiations of new members now take place at the annual meeting. As officers the chapter now elects a President, Vice-President, and Secretary-Treasurer. To the last named are assigned the duties of Corresponding Secretary, Register, Treasurer, Assistant Treasurer and Recording Secretary.* Nominations for these offices are made by a nomination committee appointed from among the members present at the annual meeting by the presiding officer of that meeting.** Newly elected members are introduced to the chapter at its annual meeting by some member delegated for that duty by the presiding officer.

8. In 1848 the chapter voted that its members should wear badges of green ribbon on the occasion of the Phi Beta Kappa oration, which was then an annual Commencement event. Such a badge is therefore a distinctive token of membership in the Alpha of Ohio.

9. In the spring of 1909 the Alpha organized the  $\Phi$  B K Association of Cleveland. This organization met on March twentieth at a banquet at which there were present ninety-four men and women representing twenty-four different chapters. At this time a constitution was adopted and the organization made permanent. There have been, however, no further meetings.

10. From time to time open meetings of the chapter have been held, at which addresses and poems have been delivered. In June 11, 1911, the Phi Beta Kappa oration was delivered by the Reverend Rollin Augustus Sawyer, D. D., of the class of 1851, on the subject, "The Scholar's Quest." At the same meeting the Reverend Theodore Chickering Williams, Harvard, '76, read a poem entitled "Phi Beta Kappa Key." During Commencement week of 1913 at a joint open meeting of the Alpha and the College for Women section of the Alpha, Hosea Ballou Morse, Harvard, '75, spoke on the topic "The Repayment by the West of its Debt to the East."

* See Constitution, Art. 1, Sec. 1, p. 24.

** For the method of nomination of members see Laws, Articles 10, 11 and 14, pp. 30, 31.

COLLEGE FOR WOMEN
SECTION

HISTORY OF THE COLLEGE FOR WOMEN SECTION OF THE ALPHA OF OHIO

On March 5, 1901, the faculty of the College for Women voted that an "application be made for entrance into Phi Beta Kappa and that the matter be entrusted to Miss Palmié." In October, 1903, President Thwing reported to the faculty that five chapters had approved the application. Thus endorsed, the application for a chapter was presented to the Senate of the United Chapters of Phi Beta Kappa by a committee of the faculty consisting of Professors Emma M. Perkins, Robert W. Deering and Doctor Allyn A. Young.

To this application the Senate replied as follows: "On account of the close connection of this College and Adelbert College of the University, it is deemed inadvisable to consider the application, since the council, by denying a chapter to Barnard College, has practically established the rule that two charters should not be granted to closely affiliated institutions." At the same time the Senate authorized the Alpha to extend to the College for Women the right to membership granted in its own charter. This decision placed the responsibility for the foundation of the chapter upon the Alpha of Ohio. The latter had been, in 1903, one of the chapters to endorse the College for Women application; and in 1904 it appointed the standing committee on new charters, Professor C. J. Smith, '70, the Rev. Dr. J. D. Williamson, '70, and Harry A. Haring, '98, as a special committee with power to outline a plan, in conjunction with the faculty of the College for Women, providing for all details of organization and for the election of alumnae members. In 1905, the Secretary of the Alpha, Professor C. P. Bill, '94, was added to this committee. On May 10, 1906, after considerable preliminary work, a joint meeting was held with the College for Women faculty committee. Professor Hippolyte Gruener of the College for Women faculty, a member of the Alpha of Connecticut, was invited to join in the deliberations.

The committee of the Alpha presented to the joint committee a draft of the regulations to govern the proposed extension of membership, as follows:

"The Alpha of Ohio, which is now the chapter of Phi Beta Kappa in Adelbert College, extends its privileges to the College for Women of Western Reserve University under the following provisions:

1. There shall be a section of the Alpha consisting of members elected from the students and alumnae of the College for Women.
2. This section shall have separate meetings and shall transact the business properly belonging to it as a subordinate section, including the election and initiation of members. But in all these things it shall adopt as its rule of procedure the constitution and laws of the Alpha.*
3. The records of the secretary of the section shall be submitted annually to the Alpha for review and approval.
4. The income derived from initiation fees shall be paid annually to the Secretary-Treasurer of the Alpha."

These provisions were unanimously adopted, and it was voted that they be signed by all members of the joint committee.

It was unanimously voted to adopt the following rule in electing former graduates of the College for Women to membership in the College for Women section:

"The classes, up to the present Senior class shall be grouped together and one-fourth of this whole number shall be taken as a maximum. Those graduates shall be elected whose work reaches an average of grade E in one-fourth of their courses, irrespective of the nature of any particular mark, provided the number thus elected be not more than one fourth of the whole body of graduates*."

On June 6, a second meeting of the joint committee was held, at which it was unanimously voted to elect to membership in the Alpha those members of the Senior class of that year who had taken at least three-fourths of their college course at the College for Women, and who had attained an average grade of E in at least one-fourth of their courses, provided that the total number elected should not exceed one-fourth of the class. This is the rule under which members of Phi Beta Kappa were elected until 1917.

In that year this section adopted the following rule governing eligibility:

"Candidates for a B. A. degree must have fifteen E's above an average of G and must be in the first fifth of the class, counting all who are eligible to consideration. This number fifteen is based on the curriculum of forty semester courses.

Students are not eligible unless the course was completed within four years of residence and in case of extenuating circumstances the matter will be reported to the Phi Beta Kappa executive committee** for decision.

Candidates for the B. S. degree are eligible, beginning with the 1917 graduates. They must attain a grade of E over an average of G, in 36.3 per cent of their academic work, and further be included in the first fifth of the whole class, all the courses of their curriculum being taken into consideration.

The absolute requirement shall be 36.3 per cent of thirty courses (academic), that is, eleven E's, and no student shall be *Seventy-seven alumnae from the classes of 1892-1905, inclusive, were elected in accordance with this regulation.

** At the annual meeting of 1916 the section voted the appointment by the officers of an executive committee, the individual members of which should each serve three years, the term of one member expiring each year. The aim of this arrangement was to introduce into the management of the chapter's affairs a stability not afforded by the system of rotation in the offices of president, vice-president and secretary-treasurer.

elected with a lesser number, no matter what proportion it shall represent. In case the academic courses fall below the limit twenty-eight, a student shall no longer be eligible."

The meetings of the College for Women section have been held, from the beginning of the Chapter in 1906, on the Saturday afternoon preceding Commencement. There have usually been, in addition to the regular business of the meetings, addresses by members of the faculty and others; in the most recent years a banquet has been a part of the annual gathering of the chapter. Following is a list of addresses delivered before the session:

- 1907 President Charles F. Thwing: "What Needs in Life Should the College Fill?"
- 1908 Professor Emma M. Perkins: "The Outlook of the Scholar."
- 1909 Professor S. B. Platner: "The Vagaries of a Conservative."
Miss M. W. Wildman, poem: "The Love of Wisdom for Our Guide in Life."
- 1910 Professor H. N. Fowler: "The College Training of Women."
- 1912 Miss Florence E. Allen: "Immigration."
- 1913 Hosea Ballou Morse: "The Repayment by the West of its Debt to the East."
- 1914 Professor Emma M. Perkins: "The Worth of Phi Beta Kappa."
- 1915 Professor Henry E. Bourne: "The Balance Sheet of a Century's Wars."
- 1916 Professor Lynn Thorndike: "Measuring Euripides."
- 1917 Professor Elbert J. Benton. "Fitting the Monroe Doctrine to World Politics."

The College of Women section has revived an ancient and now disused custom of the Alpha, which is that it requires dues from its members. The income from this source has been used in the past to publish the annual addresses delivered before the section.
